

THE LYING CONFERENCE

Emory Conference Center, the Starvine Ballroom

Friday November 17, 2017

*** Click Here to Register for Free - Registration Required *****

Contact Natalie Eldred at natalie.eldred@emory.edu or call 404-727-6199 with questions

8:45 am Philippe Rochat Organizer, Psychology, Emory University
Introduction and welcome

9:00 am Frans de Waal Psychology, Emory University & Yerkes Primate Center
Perspective-taking and Dishonest Communication in Primates and Other Animals

10:00 am Bradd Shore Anthropology, Emory University
Lying, American Style

11:00 am Kang Lee Developmental Psychology, University of Toronto
Little liars: How children learn to tell lies?

12:00-1:30 pm Lunch break (offered for the first 50 registered attendees)

1:30 pm Alexander Todorov Psychology & Neuroscience, Princeton University
Face Value: The Irresistible (and Misleading) Influence of First Impressions

2:30 pm Jonathan Mann Journalist and CNN anchor, International Desk
What Happened to The News? - Technology, Politics and the Vanishing Truth

3:30 pm Tim McDonough Theater Studies, Emory University. Resident Artist, Theater Emory
Onions and Identities: Theater and the True Self

4:30 pm Alex Stone Professional Magician, writer & entertainer, New York City (Introduction by David Edwards, Psychology, Emory University).
The Science of Magic and the Art of Deception

5:30 pm General Discussion

Reception and cocktails on the patio to follow

Funding for this event provided by: Emory Conference Center Hotel Subvention Fund, The Hightower Fund, Emory College Department of Psychology, and Center for Mind, Brain, and Culture

EMORY
UNIVERSITY