

Visitors | Department of Psychology

Emory University's visitor policy has been updated (effective July 1 2021). Please review the updated policy on the Emory Forward webpage

Visitor Parking

Parking is available directly across the street from our building, in the Peavine Visitor Parking Lot. For more information on parking rates and additional visitor parking lots available, please click here.

If you are an invited guest of the department, you will be given a parking validation card that will allow you to park in the visitor lot for free.

If you are a client visiting the Emory University Psychological Center, you will be given a parking validation card that will allow you to park in the visitor lot for a reduced fee of $2.

No charge after 4:45 PM

There is no charge for parking in the Peavine Visitor Parking Lot after 4:45 PM. You are also allowed to park, without charge, in the faculty/staff parking deck adjacent to the visitor lot after 4 PM.
